Lecturer Tomonori FUKASAWA

President, Emerging Technologies Corporation
Co-chair, Japanese Association for the Advancement of Science (NPO)

Soon after the company was established, he focused on the career development, training, and recruitment support of PhD talent, including doctoral students, postdoctoral researchers, and corporate researchers. In November 2012, he assumed the position of President.

He directs career support services used by more than 10,000 PhDs, and in collaboration with universities and the Ministry of Education, Culture, Sports, Science and Technology (MEXT), he has been engaged in supporting research internships, job-hunting, and career development for PhD talent.

In addition, through one-on-one career counselling, he continues to assist individuals in building their careers. Drawing on perspectives from academia, industry, and government, he is committed to fostering and supporting the success of PhD talent.
